State Election October 14, 1884. REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

For Secretary of State, JAMES 8, ROBINSON, Judge of Supreme Court, WILLIAM W. JOHNSON, CHARLES A. FLICKINGER, Electors-at-Large, JOHN BEATTY, of Franklin JAMES M. COMLY, of Lucas. Congress (12th District), ALBERT C. THOMPSON

HILLBORN C. MILLER.

Now For A Grand Victory

The ticket nominated on last Saturday is an excellent one, worthy the earnest support of every Republican in in the county-and every Democrat, too. The time is an auspicious one for getting out a full vote, and there are no sufficient reasons why this ticket should not have at least one thousand majority in the county. The campaign starts off with the party working unitidly and harmoniously together, and every indication points toward a grand victory in the Fall elections. The party is in good shape for the great Presidential contest, and if every Republican will do his whole duty from the present time until the end of the campaign, we feel assured that there will be recorded one of the grandest triumphs for the Republican party ever achieved in the County.

As usual the Republican party is on the right side, and the Democracy on the wrong side. The Republicans favor good government and protection the Democrats favor Free Trade and a scramble for office.

Let every Republican enlist for the entire campaign in active, earnest, and

The convention on last Saturday lasted until late in the afternoon, and many of the delegates wished to go home on the cars. Gilbert Robbins, of Washington township, wished to offer a resolution, but the delegates were fast leaving the Hall, and he concluded not to offer it, but to have it printed. It is as follows:

Whereas, the Republican party has been, and is now, a party of reform, and on the side of right, and ever ready to lend a helping hand to remove any and every evil, and to help build up fallen humanity, and

Whereas, the manufacture and sale of spirituous and malt liquors, to be used as a beverage, has become one of the greatest evils that ever cursed our State and Nation, therefore,

Resolved, that we, the representatives of the Republican party of Jackson county, in convention assembled, are in favor of prohibition, and of forever wiping out this greatest of evils.

We think the resolution was superfluous; yet we would have been pleased to see it presented in a full convention. There can be no question as to how the Republicans of Jackson county stand upon this question. Last fall four out of every five of them voted for prohibition. R. H. Jones made at least two speeches boldly in favor of prohibition, and his greatly increased, and rousing, and splendid majority, was an answer, in part, to his bold and honest advocacy of the right.

Henry Watterson, of the Louisville Courier Journal is an eloquent man, and in his flights of eloquence sometimes points some very truthful pictures. As, for instance, in his speech in the Democratic State Convention, at Frankfort, on last Thursday:

to drive the Republican party from its position with a squirt filled with soapsuds. We shall have to have the whole Fire Department—yes, hook and ladder and all—I was going to say the hell fire department. Mr. Watterson need not say anything about the quantity mentioned in the last sentence. The Democratic party has it, in plenteous measure. Another relic of the defunct Confederacy has passed from earth. Judah P. Benjamine, Jeff Davis' Secretary of State, died in Paris on Tuesday of last week. He was a shrewd lawyer, and had practiced in London since the death of his beloved "Southern Empire." He skipped from this country at the close of the war, because he knew that the U. S. Government ought to hang him.

We have heretofore spoken of the arge quantities of groceries and provisions sold and delivered by D. D. Dungan. Mr. Cummins has been delivering goods by wagon. On Monday we met Mr. Cummins going down Main street with a sack of flour on his shoulder, and a bundle in one hand. We asked him, (in a joke, of course,) if he had run his horse to death, delivering goods. He laughed and said yes. We do not suppose his horse is really killed, but he has been very steadily driven. And still Dungan has a large supply, and can accommodate all who want goods in his line.
